I run a whole marketing function on AI agents I build, and I keep the judgement on everything that ships: positioning, launches, content, executive voices, AI search, outbound, events and reporting. Nine years across B2B SaaS, regulated finance, automotive and luxury retail; the last three spent building the systems that run marketing.

By hand — by agents

Apr 2026 to now

AI Product Marketing & Growth Lead

Novamind Labs · Auckland · AI-native B2B SaaS, founding marketer

- Run the entire marketing function solo on an agent stack I built in Claude Code: content, three executive voices, AI search, outbound, events and reporting.
- Own category, positioning and messaging from scratch, tested in conversations with design partners.
- Own the launch end to end: beachhead, sequencing, launch surfaces and the first 90-day demand motion.
- Built the brand and the launch site as one system, with every claim traced to a source.

Senior Marketing Manager

Ipiphany AI · Auckland · B2B SaaS entering a new category

- Built the demand and ABM engine from zero: LinkedIn and Google Ads, Apollo and HeyReach outbound, SEO and content, run on weekly experiments tied to pipeline.
- Architected HubSpot from scratch: lead scoring, lifecycle stages, attribution and the pipeline dashboards sales trusted.
- Automated brief to draft to publish across HubSpot, Apollo, HeyReach and n8n, cutting content production effort by 70%+.

Dec 2021 to Jun 2025

Digital Marketing Specialist

Sime Motors New Zealand · Auckland · multi-brand automotive group

- Lifted paid media performance 40% through structured testing of audiences, bidding, creative and landing pages across Google, Meta and display.
- Cut cost per acquisition 30% by rebuilding campaign structures and moving spend to the channels that converted.
- Built automated attribution and reporting in GA4 and Google Tag Manager, replacing more than ten hours a week of manual work.
